

Dr. Flemming States 3-Point Career Guide

• THE SHORTAGE of manpower and the aim for something more than security in the careers young men seek today was the keynote to Arthur S. Flemming's pace setting speech of the ninth annual Career Conference Tuesday.

Dr. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said "In this complex and challenging world, if anything is the limiting factor in taking full advantage of our resources, it is a slack in manpower."

To illustrate his point, the Secretary said that in twelve conferences held by his department attended by the presidents and representatives of over 820 national organizations, "There was one thing emphasized at all of these meetings and that was the shortage of qualified manpower."

Referring to his three-point guide to choosing a career, Secretary Flemming said, "Life's greatest satisfaction comes to those who choose a career with the best opportunity to render maximum service."

Secondly, he cautioned, "Don't worry about security, it is written into our government's social security and employment laws and in the various companies' pension plans and hospital insurance programs."

In concluding his three-point guide, he reminded young people to "Consider not just the short-run but the long-term possibilities of a career."

Humes Leads Party Slate

• THE INDE-ANS Campus political party, last Friday, elected a five-man slate headed by presidential nominee James Humes.

Humes, vice-president of the G. W. Historical Society and treasurer of the D. C. Young Republicans Club, ran unopposed for the party's number one spot.

Thirty-one persons, termed by a spokesman as the largest group to attend an Inde-ans meeting, took part in electing the party's candidates for the spring elections.

Vito Tanzi, a foreign student from Italy, received the vice-presidential nomination. Joel Bieser copped the bid for Advocate: William Blake, School of Government Representative; and Becky Leeds, School of Education Representative.

Party spokesman, Dave Fentress, said the meeting was the "most democratic thing that has ever happened in the political arena on this campus."

The Inde-ans, according to Mr. Fentress, are represented by independents, foreign students, and fraternities. No group or organization is in control, he said.

"The nominating meeting," he said, "was broadly representative in its make-up." This was the most encouraging thing of the meeting.

The group, last Wednesday, elected permanent party officers to replace the temporary posts set up at the time of the party formation.

Stover Babcock was elected party chairman and William Davis, Vice-Chairman. Teresa Conroy and Jean Marie Rooks are recording corresponding secretaries respectively. Tony Lee is Treasurer. Dave Fentress stepped down from the temporary chairmanship to member-at-large.

... We won! The four keys copped the best group performance trophy in the All-U Follies held in Lisner Auditorium Friday night. In the center is Ann Marie Sneeringer, one of the female quartet, admiring the trophy. Gathered around her are Pat Gilliam, Edie Petersilia and Becky Hanzel, the other members of the quartet. The four girls are members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Forty Running For S. C. Election Seats

by Dick Gillespie

• STUDENT COUNCIL PETITIONING closed Friday with a total of 40 candidates seeking council positions.

Mary Foster and Ben Finkle, candidates for secretary and junior college representative respectively, were elected automatically when an opposition failed to develop.

The presidency turned into a three-way race when James Humes filed his petition 15 minutes before the deadline. Mr. Humes, vice-president of the University's Historical Society and treasurer of the D. C. Young Republican's Club, is the candidate of the Ind-ans Political party. Representing the Colonial Campus Political party is Tim Mead, Council advocate and president of Delta Sigma Rho, forensic honorary. The first man to file a petition and rounding out the battle for the Council's top post is Dick Wills, Council program director and director of the University Pep Band.

Kitty Hyland, freshman director and HATCHET features editor, joined John Prokop, Colonial Cruise sub-chairman and vice-president of Phi Sigma Kappa, in the fight for the vice-presidency.

Stan Heckman, president of the Colonial Campus Political party and Council junior college representative, and Al Schneider, Student liaison co-chairman and treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, are the comptroller candidates.

urer, in a second three-way race for advocate.

Varsity debater Bill Stuart's chance of running unopposed for member-at-large was shattered on the last day when Harry Jones, vice-president of Sigma Nu fraternity, announced his candidacy.

Margaret Cannon, Women's Athletic Association manager and junior delegate to the Physical Education Major's Council, and Rhoda Ezrin, secretary of the Colonial Campus Political party and Delphi vice-president, are the hopefuls in the contest for freshman director.

Program director petitioners are Pat Meechem, president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and social chairman for IFC; and Cookie Fishgrund, Pannhel Sing chairman and chairman of the Homecoming Pep Rally.

Pat Gussin, secretary of Student Life and president of Madison Hall Dorm Council, and Gayle Cook, co-chairman of Emanon and chairman of Holiday Season Toy Drive, are vying for activities director.

A past and present Student Union manager, Roy Dubrow, and Jack Lynn, respectively, are campaigning for the Student Union chairmanship.

Rounding out the slate are the individual school races.

Engineering School Representative candidates are Ray Linck, Ronald Grossman, Dave Trask and Jerry Cornelius.

Elaine Cohen, Rebecca Leeds and Jerry Power are vying for the School of Education Representative.

Columbian College candidates are Hal Bergem, Sondra Ford, Bern Prager and William Blake, Jr.

Charles Landon and Vicki Powers are the School of Government hopefuls.

'59 Homecoming Plans Hit Snag

• DUE TO A FAILURE in early scheduling of the National Guard Armory, next year's Homecoming may not be Homecoming.

The newly elected co-chairmen, Letty Katz and Billy Frank, have found that the Armory was not reserved early enough to fit the one home

Dance Show Plays Lisner

• THE UNIVERSITY DANCE production groups will present their annual Dance Concert in Lisner auditorium Friday and Saturday.

The program, under the guidance of Elizabeth Butler, director, and Gay Cheney, associate director, will be one of the major events of the spring semester.

Paul H. Stacey, English department instructor, has composed modern verse especially for one of the numbers. Music has been composed for the program by pianist Evelyn Lohoefer and by Thomas B. Simmons.

Technical assistance has been provided by the artistic advisor for the concert, Donald C. Kline of the art department and Mr. Leo Gallenstein of the Arena Stage will direct the lighting. Costumes are being executed by Cynthia Rhodes and Ruth Herman. First on the program will be "Two Contrasts," which treats color as a stimulus, using the opposite ends of the color spectrum. The dance will be in the form of theme and variations.

Choreography has been done by Miss Burtner, and Miss Lohoefer has composed the music especially for this number. Following will be "Collage," done to music by Henry Mancini. The choreography for this number was done by students Arthur Bauman and Joan Talbert.

After "The Zoo" will follow "Salem Witchcraft" and "Pastoral." "The Troubadour" will feature David Baker singing Twelfth century Provencal songs of the courtly love tradition in the original language. Mr. Baker will be accompanied by classical guitarist Aaron Shearer.

"Odysseus" has Richard Bushey cast as Odysseus, and is based on the themes of Cyclopes, Circes, the Kingdom of Dead and the celebration of the return of Odysseus, interspersed with the traveling theme.

"Evolution-Western" will round out the program and portrays the change in the typical western movie from silent days to the present and "Americana," the finale, based on our own American folk dance, features the entire cast of 40 dancers.

All seats for the Concert are reserved. Admission is free to Campus Combo holders. Tickets, costing $1.25 and $1.00, may be bought at the Book Store beginning April 13, in the Student Union beginning April 20 and in Lisner auditorium from 6:00 p.m. on the nights of the performance.

Election Forum

• THERE WILL BE an election forum for candidates and students of the Columbian College in Woodhull House, Room C, on Thursday, April 23, at 12:30 p.m. At this time the candidates may present their platforms to members of the Columbian College.

football game scheduled to fit into the Homecoming plans, and that somebody else has reserved the date.

According to Mr. Frank, the other two home games scheduled fall too early in the semester to allow for a proper selection of the Homecoming Queen. But even if that problem could be remedied, these weekend dates have been reserved by other parties.

The only chance for a compromise, if the party reserving the armory for the only suitable date will not reschedule, is, according to Mr. Frank, to have homecoming when G. W. plays Navy at Annapolis, November 14. "That would be a novel Homecoming," Mr. Frank admits, "but that's the way it will have to be if we can't get the other people to reschedule."

"What I can't understand," he continued, "is why someone in the administration can't schedule the Armory like the football games are scheduled—years ahead. People in the administration know as well as anybody what a good date in the year is. And as long as it corresponds with a home football game, it's fine. The date for Homecoming is really immaterial to the real planning and jobs which the co-chairmen must do," he said.

In order to avoid further trouble for co-chairmen in the future, Miss Katz and Mr. Frank have decided on schedule dates for Homecoming several years in advance. They hope that the policy will catch on and eventually save future chairmen the troubles that they have encountered.

Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities, said Friday when contacted by the HATCHET that she thought the idea for early scheduling was a good one for the Student Council to deal with since it is under their jurisdiction. If they find the proposal advisable, she concluded, they would probably back them up. She mentioned in closing that the idea was not a new one, however.

Debaters Cop Area Trophy

• UNIVERSITY VARSITY debaters won the Maryland-Washington Forensic Conference first place trophy Saturday at the University with a two team total of five wins and one loss.

Bill Daly took second and Bill Stuart fourth in the speaker ratings and went undefeated in three rounds of debate.

Despite losing one round, Mr. Aaronson and Mr. Capp ranked as the top affirmative team of the tournament.

Mr. Daly and Mr. Stuart as the second place team in District Seven will compete this weekend at the West Point National Invitational Championship Tournament. These two men, having won 37 debates this year while losing 9, have an 80 percent win average.

The four varsity debaters are the same men who won the area conference title on the same debate question last fall when the tournament was held as a practice run for the season.

Election's Near!

• THERE WILL BE a meeting of all candidates for Student Council today at 12:30 in the Conference Room of the Student Union Annex.

SX Presents Annual Sorority Derby Day

• THE SECOND ANNUAL Sigma Chi Derby Day will be held Saturday from 2:00-3:30 p.m. on Mitchell Parade Ground.

The all-University event catering to students and faculty will highlight ten campus sororities who will compete for prizes in races through "unusual" obstacle courses, tricycle races, and humorously adapted track and field events such as relay races in which girls last year had to balance five hat boxes while they ran.

In addition to the afternoon contests the Derby Day affair will launch a Miss Venus contest. During the Saturday activities photographs will be taken of the legs of all Derby Day contestants.

Then after viewing these pictures, University students may cast their votes for the pair of legs they thought the most nearly like Betty Grable's. The girl with the highest vote, of course, is to be named Miss Venus.

According to Derby Day Chairman Dave Bernhisel, the Sigma Chi men will also hold a campus-wide raffle with a case of pink champagne for first prize, a fifth of Bourbon for second and a case of beer bringing up third place. Chances for the raffle are 25c a ticket or 5 for a dollar.

Taylor Wins A&C Award

• GEORGE D. TAYLOR, the University's first General Motor's scholarship winner has been awarded the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's Special Fellowship in Nuclear Science and Engineering for 1959-60.

Mr. Taylor who will graduate from the University in June, will take his graduate study at the University of Southern California where his fellowship will allow him to work for a Ph.D. in Nuclear reactor design and technology.

The fellowship would have allowed him to study at any one of many top Universities in the country and to use equipment such as nuclear reactors, ion accelerators, and counters established for research and experiments.

Mr. Taylor is going to UCLA hoping to do research under Dr. Willard F. Libby, an eminent scientist and a current member of the AEC.

The fellowship will give Mr. Taylor an $1800 stipend plus tuition and fees.

The scholarship is offered by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Girls' Swim Meet

• THE RESULTS of the Girls Intramural Swim Meet are: Team Winners: First, Physical Education Majors 58; second, Kappa Kappa Gamma 51.

Program, Plans Set For Colonial Cruise

• THE COLONIAL CRUISE will cast off aboard the Wilson Line's SS Mt. Vernon at 2:00 p.m., May 2.

The annual cruise will feature an activities-filled day at Marshall Hall, Maryland. The activities will include a variety of athletic events, games for children, square dancing, and a dance marathon contest.

WGW Again Hopes for OK

● STAFF MEMBERS of radio station WRGW have their fingers crossed for the results of the station's latest revised constitution, now up for administrative approval.

Stuart Gelber, key man in the organization of the radio station, said Saturday that the latest revised constitution of WRGW is in the office of Acting President Colclough. A hint of optimism was expressed by Mr. Gelber who, along with many other students, has been disappointed by the long delay in obtaining the University's approval.

Mr. Gelber continued by saying, "If we get the long awaited approval, our first step will be to hold an executive council meeting. We will work on a plan for our broadcasting activities for next fall and begin the necessary paper work."

According to a member of the radio station staff, Congressman Rivers (Alaska) has stated he will be glad to participate in several WRGW programs.

Career Apathy!

• LAST WEEK'S CAREER Conference was the most poorly supported program of the year. Approximately eight people, including faculty, showed up to hear Arthur S. Flemming's keynote address. Dr. Flemming is the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The question which arises is—how important and valuable is the Career Conference to the student body? It is certainly one of the most carefully planned programs of the year. But is it worth all the money, time and effort spent on the planning if such a small number of people show up to take part in it?

It would be a shame to have to discontinue the Conference; we are certain that the people who did attend the forum of their choice profited by it.

Since we feel that the Career Conference is an essentially well planned program, and deserves full support from the student body, we would appreciate any suggestions on how the program might be improved to stimulate student interest.

Book Prices

• THE HATCHET WOULD like to back the President of the Student Council, Ed Rutsch, on his stand on the book store. For years the students have complained about the book store's high prices; many Councils have tried to look into the matter, but this is the first time that a Council has actually gotten some information from the University.

It is about time that the University removed the word cooperative from the book store's nameplate. The store certainly does not cooperate with the students as far as prices are concerned. When the Council asked the Treasurer for a statement on the book store the statement was hidden in a lot of words that did not say much of anything. The only thing concrete in this statement is that the book store does make a profit and the proceeds go into the University funds to make up any deficit. This statement finally explodes the theory that the book store profits make up the losses the Student Union accrues.

Since the Treasurer does not feel that facts and figures would be of value to the students, the President of the Council and the HATCHET feel that the students should in some way let the Council know of their interest to buy books at a cheaper price. The only way the Council can act is to have some show of student interest. Only then will the Council make some effort to maintain a student book exchange.

The G. W. book store is not the only store having its troubles. Over at the G. W. medical book store the students find that they can get their books and supplies cheaper at a downtown store. This has led to the G. W. book store lowering its prices. The law school's book exchange is operated by a law fraternity. A service charge of 25c is all that is necessary to sell a book for the price you want.

There are ways to get the book store to lower prices if the students will only show some interest by writing the Council or the HATCHET care of the Student Union Annex.

What Date?

• ANYONE TALKING TO the Homecoming co-chairmen Bill Frank or Letty Katz about the '59 Homecoming would find out that being a co-chairman for the Student Council is not very easy. There is more than work involved. You have to buck not only the administration, but tradition.

For some odd reason the date for homecoming is not selected until six or seven months before the event takes place. This is a tradition and is not changed very easily. Because of this custom the students of G. W. will probably have their homecoming football game in Annapolis, Maryland, against the Naval Academy. Mr. Frank and Miss Katz have been working hard trying to get somebody to give in so they can at least get the date settled. But each time they hit a brick wall because either the National Guard Armory is being used or the football team does not have a home game scheduled that weekend.

Homecoming is about the most tedious chairmanship the Council has the responsibility of selecting and there is a great deal more to do than just selecting the date. When one tries to find out who actually selects the date the field narrows down to the homecoming co-chairman, Dr. Faith, the dean of men, Miss Kirkbride, the dean of women, and Mr. Faris, the director of athletics. Right now the problem is to have homecoming in Washington, D. C., at our home game on the same weekend the armory is free. If this is not possible then maybe the athletic department can schedule another game since the Colonials only play an eight game schedule this year.

Letters To The Editors

• RECENTLY THERE HAS been much discussion about the newly-founded Colonial Campus party, and with a second party joining in the political push, an original campaign period should be in store. However, I have several reservations concerning the worth and effectiveness of these parties.

First of all, it is only reasonable that the party will choose candidates with heavy emphasis on how thoroughly they support the party's platform. Now this seems fine at first glance, but I think the most important consideration should be placed on the candidate's qualifications, and proposals for handling his particular position. That is, questions such as "How is the publicity director going to stir up student participation?" and "By what methods are school representatives going to truly represent their schools?" These questions should be of first importance. However, if party approval depends mainly on how strongly a candidate supports the party's platform, then questions of general legislation such as "Should the University Band be placed on Campus Combo?" may take first place in competition for party support. And, while I think this type of question is important, I don't believe it is as solid an issue on which to nominate a candidate as in the candidate's proposed methods of carrying out the duties of his office. I fear that "support of a party platform" instead of "the candidate's proposals for handling his particular office" will too often be most heavily weighed in the primary nomination and possibly in the final elections.

Another consideration is the possibility that members of the party who are elected on the Council will vote in a block on issues other than those in their platform. I believe that too much "party awareness" might diminish the presence of independent objective stands on issues and create the kind of collusion of which fraternities and sororities are often accused and are sometimes guilty.

Also, a problem which will inevitably have to be dealt with is the difficulty of avoiding party control by a single fraternity or sorority, or some type of combined group. Some safeguards have been set up by the Colonial Campus Party but in future years avoiding control of the party by special interest groups might be a formidable task.

I would like to say at this point, that although I am not in favor of the idea of the "party" nominating candidates for office, I do believe that the Colonial Campus party offers some excellent proposals concerning Union dances, check-cashing service, the University Band, literary and humor magazine and others.

Further, I believe that most of those connected with this movement are sincerely attempting to promote effective student government and have come up with some fine proposals for next year's legislation.

The party recommends election of a candidate on a "definite platform." This is good advice, however, we may well find just such a candidate with a definite platform running on a non-party ticket by his own choice. Let's keep an eye on the candidate's qualifications and not his fraternity, sorority or party affiliation.

SC Hears Report Of Book Store Findings

• TIM MEAD, CHAIRMAN of the Student Council Survey Committee, reported the Committee's findings on the campus Book Store to the Council last Wednesday. The text of the report is printed below:

Survey Committee Report

The Survey Committee met Monday, April 6, 1959 with

Mr. Henry W. Herzog, University Treasurer, to discuss the Committee's investigation of prices in the University Book Store. No conclusions were reached, and the Committee agreed to meet with Mr. Herzog in one week on Monday, April 13 for which meeting Mr. Herzog said he would have a statement prepared.

When the Committee met again with Mr. Herzog it received the following statement:

"A request has been made by a Committee of the Student Council for a financial statement of the Book Store operated by the University. We understand that this request in part is in fulfillment of certain campaign promises made by candidates for election to the Student Council last year and in response to a general feeling on the part of some students that the cost of text books is 'too high.'"

It is not felt that the release of a financial statement would serve any constructive purpose. The University is responsible for the efficient and successful operation of the Book Store as well as for all other services provided for our student body. As such while it is interested and considerate of student opinion, it must be solely responsible for the operation of these services.

It may be helpful to explain that The George Washington University Book Store is operated by the University as a convenience to the students of the University. New text book prices are generally those suggested as retail prices by the publishers. Consequently, they are usually comparable to the prices charged at other nearby university Book Stores. Used book pricing follows the pattern of the trade. Any net income or loss from this operation accrues to the benefit or detriment of the general operating funds of the University. Net income is used by the University, as is all other University income, for the furtherance of the Educational activities of the University in accordance with its non-profit Charter.

The Committee notes that no figures as to Book Store profit or loss are included in the statement. Mr. Herzog felt that nothing was to be gained by the inclusion or release of a financial statement. He said that it is University policy to sell books at the suggested retail price, and that this is in accordance with the policy of the university Book Stores in the area.

The Committee concludes that the Book Store does make a profit, as suggested in an earlier report, and that this profit is then used to make up deficits in other areas of University activity. No conclusions can be drawn as to whether text book prices are "too high" because only a statement of policy is available from the University, and because of the subjective nature of both the question and information at hand.

The following statement was made by Ed Rutsch, president of the Council, as an addition to the Survey Committee report.

"This makes it clear that the Book Store is not a cooperative but a convenience for George Washington students, and a profit making organization for the University."

Therefore if George Washington students are interested in buying books more cheaply than using the bookstore as a convenience, I suggest they let their Student Council know of their interest and that the Student Council will set up some means of organizing students to buy books more cheaply in large quantities."

Old Men Try To Prepare For Fall

• FORMAL PETITIONING FOR old men ended Friday, but additional petitions are still being accepted in the Student Activities Office.

To get the ball rolling early, the Old Men are planning a spring organizational meeting this year to facilitate smoother operation of the organization's program in the fall.

The get-together will be devoted to explaining the purpose of Old Men to new members and to discussing the activities planned to aid the new freshmen in adapting themselves to University living.

Members of the organization will receive notification by mail during the summer as to who their son for the fall program will be. Outgoing president, Bernie Degen said that he thinks the Old Men Program can be carried on well if organization and incentive are given the group. He stressed particularly the need for making compromise appointments when Old Men find it impossible to make it back to school in time for the Fall activities and other similar problems.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

• "MY CANDIDATE FOR Student Council President was born in a log cabin down in the far reaches of Foggy Bottom . . ." or so the story goes. Good luck to all the candidates.

Phi Phi comes up with the engagement of ex-Poxy Betsy Evans and Jack Toland, Sigma Nu from the University of Tulsa, now a grad student at Maryland. The happy matchmaker is Jack's sister, DG Jo Toland. Now there's a lucky man!

AEPI held its annual dinner-dance at Walnut Hill last Saturday. Past Master Bob Lipman highlighted the evening with the installation of new officers. Lovely Nancy Ackerman, AEPI's new sweetheart, was introduced and presented with a bouquet of roses. The members of her court, Janet Ginberg, Audrey Mogman, Lynne Robinson and Adrienne Epstein, were presented with blue and gold garters. Bob topped top honors in the awards program with the outstanding brother, athletic and activities awards. Marty Reichgut won the scholarship award, Al (Charlie Brown) Goldstein installed new initiates into the Uma club and gave his annual drinking award to pledge George Spector, and Richie Schwartz received an honorary award from the Rats Extermination Society.

Seen after making the trip along the Burma Road to the estate were new prexy Stan Heckman and Laura Rauch, Burt Kaplan and Sweetheart Nancy, Merritt Murry and Ann Bryson, Marty Reichgut and AEPI Sherry Robinson, Bob Lipman and Adrienne Epstein, Rick Silas and Audrey Mogman, Roy Du Brow and AEPI Janet Ginberg, Marty Herman and Sidney Epstein, Harvey Wortlieb and Linda Silverberg, Mel Feldman and Lynne Robinson, Saul Leibowitz and Joan Goldstein, Bernie Karmel and AEPI T. C. Aronoff, Milt Michaels and AEPI Elaine Cohen, Eric Mendelsohn and Phyllis Schneider, Hal Tomlin and Sheila Slossenberg, Howie Lehrer and AEPI Freida Brandenburg and Richie Schwartz and fiancé Rose-Ann Haas.

DG Liz McGarry was crowned this year's Delt Queen Saturday night at the Delt's annual Rainbow Ball at the Empire Room of the Ambassador hotel. Dancing to the music of "Sam" Lee were new prexy Bill Talantino and Kappa Joyce Ormsby, Bill Howlin and Sweetheart Liz, Larry Boehly and Libby Griffith, Mike Gail and fiancé Ann Baggett, Conway Richardson and Theta Ann Kellogg, Bill Lady and Theta Sandy Clements, Rapid Robert Lineberry and DG Penny Reid, Tim Mead and Kappa Evie Weedon, George Edwards and Connie Smith, Jim Hill and Terry Bishop, Bill Warden and Mary Louise Saville, Bill Massey and Nat Warden and Roy Harding and Alma Richardson.

Also distinctly in the picture were Ham Beggs and DG Paula Fortucci, who had an interesting problem with shoes and with trying to match Ham's improvising. Others included Jack Baller and Kappa Edie Petersilia, Dick Brown and Theta Carol Schleier, Bill Smythe and Theta Bobbie Lohnes, Steve Ridgeway and DG Rolly Boucheh, and John Cal-aree and Kappa Pat Gilliam. At the request of many of the young ladies present, Jon Whiting, Gene Fosati, and Ed Hino presented part of the Welling Hall Corps de Ballet routine which brought many laughs. The whole affair was preceded by a champagne cocktail party at John Bachman's.

The gorgeous weather, the high spirits, and the delicious food characterized the SAE spring formal this year. The brothers, after an enjoyable cocktail hour at Spero Aspiotis' new hill top house, trekked over to the Belle Haven Country club for the dance. Adding to the evening was brother Earl Faulk's band. Congrats are in order to Tony Dold for his recent pinning to DG Judy Crumlish (and for his Dancer of the Year award), and to Tom McHan on his pinning to DG Jan Martinecz.

Seen taking in the night's activities were Eddie Dyson and Julie Anderson, Wiley Clark and DG Lani Derickson, Spero and Theta Carol Schleier, Jay Martin and KKG Gigi Winslett, Red Jenkins and DG Pippa Feddersen, and the youngest set of the Feddersen family was present in the form of Sarah Feddersen, who was coupled with Neil Stull. Still more: Franny Gleason and Nancy Kollis, Jerry Sluger and KKG Terry Sherer, Jett McNett and DG Lynne Larin, Carl Scrivener and Karyl Deery, Ed Crump and Theta Linda Lancaster, Mike Glaser and Joan Morse, Richie Wells and Lynn Bream, Jerry Powers and KKG Margie Weiss, Pete Spear and DG Jane Hildgedick, Billy Frank and flower girl, DG Joan Walsh, Ted Alexander and Anne Atkinson, Jack Williams and DG Joyce Baggett, Dave French and DG Cissie Anderson, Bob Madigan and DG Helene Harper, Mike Sommer and sustained Corrine Tegions, Bill Blocher and KEG Carol Briggs, Tom McHan and DG Jan Martinez, and all the others this weary mind can't remember. Forgive, oh unmentioned ones!

The Most Unusual Exchange of the Year award goes to Kappa Alpha Theta. Last Wednesday the Thetas hosted the Sigma Chi to a breakfast in the wee hours—8:00 a.m.—in the Theta rooms. Head pancake-maker Sally Herrington planned the whole thing, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone there.

The Phi Sigs started their spring social week with a rousing exchange with AEPI last Sunday and ended it Saturday night when the brothers literally threw a wild million-dollar "South Seas Island" party. The house was decorated with palm trees and many lovely ladies in sarongs and hula skirts were swaying to the strains of a combo playing appropriate island (Manhattan) music. Some of the swayers were Tom Edmondston and Pat Dodge, Joe Spitzer and KAT "Sarong Sally" Herrington, Fred Hink and KKG Ann Gruger, newly pinned Monte Whitham and ADPI Carol Dugan, Roy Robbins and Pi Phi Hope Barton and Don Pavony and AEPI Sandy Carlin. Planted among the trees were Tom Huestis and Ann Atkins, Lou van Blois and Chi O Ginger Thomas, Don Elliott and ADPI Gayle Cook, prexy Charlie King and AEPI prexy Rhoda "Rooter" Ezfin, Hans Johansson and Gunilla Andrae and independent John Prokop. Congratulations to Brother Bill Dotson for winning first place in the All-U. fol-lies.

Last Sunday the Sigma Nus held their annual Congressional Reception. All Sigma Nus in Congress were invited to attend. Those present were Senator Frear and Representatives Devine, Andrews, Michel, and Norblad. Also in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlos Faith, the Doutys, the Johnsons, the Stoutenburgs, the McGraths, the Lynns, the Kripotoses, the Belfords and the Hungarian Diplomat to Sigma Nu, the Honorable Istvan Szuriga. Those brothers cornering the Congressmen and seeking political advice were the SN Student Council candidates, Dick Wills, Aubrey Harrison Jones, and Aubrey Jackson Lynn, Jr. P. S. Happy Birthday to Carl Prout. It's his 19th.

Saturday night saw the brothers of PIKA jam the Pike House, eager to celebrate the return of all-time Pike alum, Emerald Georgi. Georgi, after finishing school a few years back, has toured the globe three times over as chief-mate for Moose-Moosemilk Lines. Seen among the well-comers were Ted Collins and DG Mary Lou McCracken, Steve Dietz and Hilda, Ben Apollo and KKG Morna Campbell, Bruce Abel and DG Doty Scavone, Hank Richmond and Chi O Kathy Arness and Phil Dubina and ADPI Candy Seboltz. When last seen, Al Schneider was still looking for his date. Late arrivals included Fred Dibbs and Bernard Passeltiner. And an added note from author Collins. P. S. Check for spelling and grammar. (Well, I tried—give an orange sticker to Collins.)

Lin De Vicchio was busy giving every one instructions from the two books Hal Bergem gave him for his birthday last Saturday at the Sig House. The occasion was Lin's 20th (I think.) Wishing Lin and his new pinmate, Angela Pecorela, well were Hal and Linda Ransom, Howie Hill and Theta Jeanne Simon, Bob Sneed and Sweetheart of SX Jan Baldauf, Don (5 for 5) and Barbara Herman, J. P. Donley and Bobby Johnson, Joe Ook and Chi O Marty Hurd, Bill Halter and Dottie Williams, Dave Bernheisel and Gail Rogers and Al Baker and Gail's sister down from Massachusetts.

committee undertook such an investigation. Political and personal skirmishes delayed the committee's final report throughout most of the year.

However last week, under newly appointed chairman Tim Mead, the committee presented the final bookstore report to the Council. Despite the vigorous efforts of Mr. Mead and his fellow investigators, the report contained no statement of profit and loss, no figures whatsoever.

University Treasurer Henry W. Herzog, in refusing to release bookstore figures, told the committee he felt such a statement would "serve no constructive purpose."

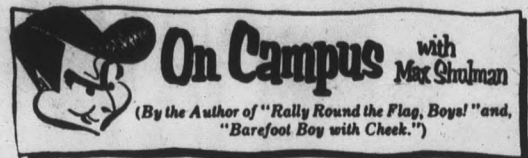

Mr. Herzog is probably right. Nevertheless, his position has an unavoidable corollary: refusal to release such a statement serves a distinctly destructive purpose.

Honesty and openness go hand in hand. Suddenly seeping into the confidence all of us feel in the honesty of the University is a nasty little question: does the bookstore have something to hide?

The student body deserves a meaningful answer.

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKSTADER

When Thorwald Dockstader—sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sophomore, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands and then picked the mildest, tastiest, pleasingest of all—Philip Morris, of corris!

Similarly, when Thorwald took up girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he took out an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Grist, a wisp of a girl with luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Trippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a sea shell and sighed sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morocco notebook and wrote a little poem:

*I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer.
I will feel the sea once more
Pounding on my femur.*

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 18 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they jogged around 50 times to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 36 holes of golf, nine innings of one old cat, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leap frog. Then they went ten rounds with eight-ounce gloves and then they had heaping bowls of bran and whey and exchanged a manly handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

"I think I'll stick with PHILIP MORRIS," he said

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-lipped, full-calved girl named Totsi Sigafocs. Totsi was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of ieky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU?"

Totsi started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a de luxe movie palace where Totsi had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a costly ballroom and cha-cha'd till dawn, tipping the band every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Totsi, unable to decipher the large and baffling menu, found a simple way out of her dilemma: she ordered one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the women's dorm, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Philip Morris. I am not rich enough for girls."

Sommer also gained a victory in the 100 yard dash with 10.3 seconds. Pike's Jim Black came from behind to nose out Stu Engleberg, Dick Linde, and Barry Gould, all of AEPI in the two-fifths of a mile. Ron Reeves of SX crossed the finish line ahead of SAE's Max Farrington. In the Relays SAE and SX won. The sprint relay was taken by SAE's quartet of Ed Dietzen, Elden Miller, Red Jenkins and anchor-man Sommer. SX's medley distance foursome of Bill Ferra, Duane Harkleroad, Ron Reeves, and Wasilewski set the pace.

Mural Softball

In the A League of softball, the Hawks soared to an extra-inning 6-3 victory over SAE. Both hurlers, Jimmy Hill of the Hawks and Henry Frain of SAE, pitched fine ball for the regulation five innings. Going into the sixth inning with the score tied at three all, the Hawks were able to push across three runs on hits paired with rather shoddy SAE fielding.

The Med School and AEPI, ranked one and two, in overall intramural standings clashed last Sunday afternoon. Trailing 12-1 in the top of the fourth inning due to an onslaught of hits off pitcher Al Ezrin in the opening innings, the AEPI nine came up with nine runs in the fourth. But they were unable to salvage the game, which ended 12-10. Generally in most of the intramural games, the pitching was stronger than the hitting.

SAE Wins Track Meet; Buff Nine Take Three

'Mural Softball Begins

DURING AN ACTIVE weekend for intramurals SAE picked up 250 points in winning the track meet last Saturday, only to lose 100 points when its B team forfeited one of its two softball games on Sunday.

As SAE swept the field to finish far ahead of all opponents at the Western High School track, it piled up 101 points, more than 50 points in front of its closest competitors. Sigma Chi grabbed second prize in the meet with 44 points, PIKA netted 38 to come in third, DTPH got 30 and fourth place, and AEPI nailed down the fifth slot with 28 points.

Individual Winners

Of the 66 individual athletes participating in the fifteen events, Stethotolis of DTPH with 28 points, Mike Sommer from SAE with 23 tallies, Jerry Sluger also of SAE with 20, and Pike Steve Dietz with 19 points were the individual stars for the meet.

Professor Vincent DeAngelis, who officiated at the meet expressed his opinion: "The entrants from the eleven participating organizations as well as the independents performed with much fervor and sportsmanship in every event. Men of approximately equal ability in the various phases of track were out, thus no one could run away with any event."

Especially good were the times in which some of the events were run. Steve Dietz of Pike ran the Gino D'Ambrosio killed a potential Spider rally in the top of the ninth inning when he made a diving catch of Swilling's sinking liner. Gino also had two hits and batted in three runs.

Art And Sciences

AN ART EXHIBITION, "The New Landscape in Art and Science," will be held in the Library Thursday through Sunday. The exhibition, which was organized by the American Federation of Arts, was mentioned in the SUNDAY STAR as the outstanding art event of the week.

Frank Campana was the winning pitcher and now has a two and one record.

Last Thursday at the Ellipse Colonial Charlie Padgett pitched a three-hitter against Washington and Lee and George Washington romped, 5-0.

Jerry Power led the Colonials with three hits, a triple and two singles, while Don Herman and Charlie Sampson got two hits apiece. The errorless defensive play by the Colonials, especially by the infielders comprised of Don Herman, 1b; Ralph Kunze, 2b; Sam Knisley, ss; Charlie Sampson, 3b; and Ron DeMelfi, catcher, was effective in keeping Washington and Lee scoreless.

The next Colonial baseball game is Saturday, April 25, at West Virginia. Last year the Colonials split a pair of games with the mountaineers.

It's what's up front that counts

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as π . (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

"Eureka! Winston tastes good... like a cigarette should!"

Colonial Batters Win; To Meet Mountainmen

by John Prokop

• THE COLONIAL BASEBALL team defeated Georgetown, 11-2; Richmond, 8-6; and Washington and Lee, 5-0 last week to extend its won and lost record to six and one. The lone defeat by Colby College came earlier in the season.

Last Saturday the Colonials, behind the three-hit pitching of Denny Hill and the slugging of Don Herman and Ralph Kunze, mowed down rival Georgetown University, 11-2, at the Hilltop.

Hill, backed by 13 Colonial hits, met no trouble in the six innings he pitched. He struck out seven, walked two, and didn't allow any runs. Frank Campana, pitched the remaining innings and gave up five hits and the two Hoya runs.

Herman, who went five for five, had two triples, a double and two singles, and batted in five runs. Kunze also batted in five runs. He went three for four with two triples and a single.

Richmond Defeated

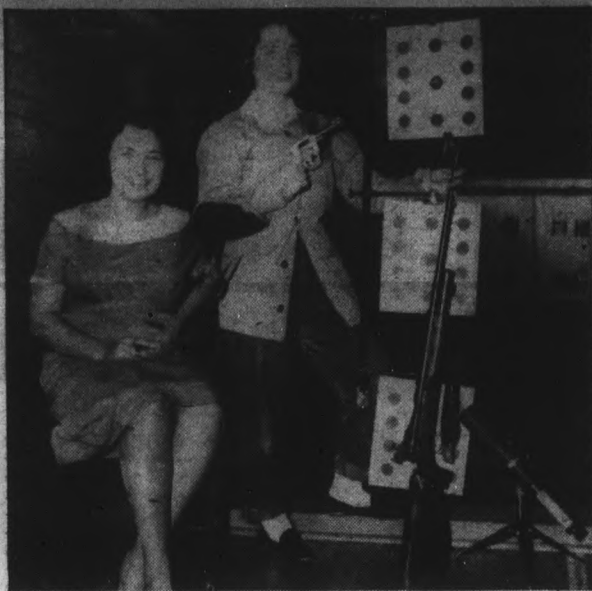

Last Thursday at the Ellipse the Buff came from behind in the bottom of the eighth inning to defeat a tough Richmond University team, 8-6.

Colonial pitcher George Bickerton had a 4-0 lead, but a triple by Spider Tom Booker drove in two runs and made the score 5-2. In the seventh inning Bickerton lost control, walked four batters and was charged with four runs.

With Richmond leading 6-5, Frank Campana replaced Bickerton and retired the side. Then catcher Ron DeMelfi started the eighth inning Colonial rally by belting out his second single of the day. After that, Spider pitcher Barry Swilling walked two Colonials and filled the bases. Pinch-hitter Des Gatti hit a long sacrifice fly to score DeMelfi from third base. The throw to the plate went

Buff Golfers Win Matches

• THE G. W. GOLFERS snapped out of a two match losing streak to take two Southern Conference teams last week. The Colonials now have a 3-2 match record.

Last Wednesday the Buff linksmen downed VMI to win their first Southern Conference match.

The Colonials remained on the win trail Thursday by downing a scrappy Richmond team 5-4. The Buff golfers were forced into a playoff after the Spiders had tied them on the regulation 18 holes. The G. W. team finally triumphed on the twenty-first hole as Eddie Bowers sank a 20-foot putt to take the hole and match. Warren Krick was low man for G. W. with a 72 for 18 holes.

These two wins for G. W. were the first since the disastrous Greenbriar Tournament in which the Buff placed last. After the Tourney the Colonials went on to lose to Colgate, and Georgetown.

The Buff play two matches this week, including a league opponent. Tomorrow G. W. will meet Princeton, and on Friday they will take on the Generals from Washington and Lee.
